ELSPETH PITT

Elspeth grew up in West Wales and originally trained as a teacher, but has now been in church work for around twenty years, working in a large city centre church in London, and a medium sized suburban church in the Wirral.

She loves to help women become more confident in handling the bible for themselves and growing in their personal walk with the Lord Jesus and has a heart for those on the edges of church life.

After thirty years working in England she is delighted to be back in Wales and working on the staff of Highfields in Cardiff.

Her topics for the week-end :

MARK CHP 4
